ead: We are pleased to announce that Microsoft and @PlayStation have signed ✎ , a binding agreement to keep Call of Duty on PlayStation following the acquisiti on of Activision Blizzard. We look forward to ✎ , a future where players globall y have more choice to play their favorite games.  In the United States, the FTC had argued ✎ , the acquisition deal would hurt consumers whether they played video games on consoles or had subscriptions because Microsoft would have ✎ , an incentive to shut out rivals like Sony Grou p. However, Judge Jacqueline Scott Corley ruled on 11 June: The FTC has ✎ , not shown it is likely to succeed on its assertion the combined firm will pro bably pull Call of Duty from ✎ , Sony PlayStation, or that its ownership of Acti vision content will substantially lessen competition in the video game library s ubscription and ✎ , cloud gaming markets.  To address the FTC s concerns, Microsoft had agreed to license Call of Duty to rivals, including a 10-year ✎ , contract with Nintendo, contingent on th e merger closing. On Sunday, Microsoft did not disclose the duration of the agreement wit h Sony.
